CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

To the Editor of the Manchester Inspector : Siz.—In glancing over the first number of y paper, my eye was caught by the vulgar slang of title of an article—"The Anti-Capital-Publishme Humbug." I read the article with a disgust and dignation which must, I think, be shared even the advocates of the Punishment of Death. I not object to the because you differ from me in ... dignation where are set of the Punishment of Denth. I do the advocates of the Punishment of Denth. I do the advocates of the Punishment of Denth is opinion; but as an opponent, for the last twelve years in private and in public, of this mode of punishment. I must protest against it on the three following grounds:—Ist is offensive levity; 2nd. Its savage ferocity; and 3d. The gross injustice with which it misrepresents the pleader for the sacutity of him. iserpresents the pleaders nor were managery.

Ist. Surely the violent death of a human being, be execution of a murderer by the hands of the law, is not thus flippantly to he spoken of.
